Ask Our Nutritionist

Q: I know my diet isn't the best, and I also drink and smoke. I've heard these habits can cause liver problems, and I'm starting to get worried about my health. What should I do?

A: The liver is your body's natural detox system. Give it a boost with antioxidants from fruits, vegetables, nuts, and seeds. Asparagus supports detox, while broccoli helps block cancer-causing chemicals. Staying hydrated is key. Aim for six to eight glasses of water each day. Alcohol can damage the liver, especially in large amounts, and tar from smoking affects not just the lungs, but the whole body. Supplements that support the body's natural detox process include Irwin Naturals Liver Detox and Blood Refresh, Host Defense Mushrooms Mycobionicals Liver, Feel Rite Liver Detox, Nature's Secret Ultimate Cleanse, Gaia Herbs Liver Health, Life Seasons Puri-T Liver Support, and Herb Pharm Liver Health Liquid. These products help cleanse the body, repair cells, and reduce free radicals that can lead to disease.
